SUBJECT: 2011 Grades 3–8 English Language Arts and Mathematics Testing Revised Test Specifications Information

This memorandum provides essential information regarding the specifications of the Grades 3–8 English Language Arts and Mathematics Tests that will be administered beginning in spring 2011.

At their June 22, 2009 meeting, the Board of Regents directed the New York State Education Department to redesign the 2011 Grades 3–8 English Language Arts and Mathematics Tests to better cover a wider range of performance indicators. In order to accomplish this, the Department has made changes to the format of the testing program, lengthened the amount of time each test will take, and changed the administration time to later in the academic year.

To assist schools in the planning for the 2011 tests, the Department has developed the following information on the test specifications for the Grades 3–8 Tests. The document lists the test design for the ELA and Mathematics Tests, the approximate number and type of questions by grade and book, the approximate percentage of questions assessing each standard, and the format of each test. Schools and districts are encouraged to use the attached document when reviewing local curricula and in designing their instructional programs.

Please note that the performance indicators to be assessed have not changed. These are still based upon the New York State Learning Standards (<http://www.emsc.nysed.gov/ciai/cores.html>). However, the number and type of learning standards to be assessed will be expanded beyond those in prior tests.

We appreciate the efforts of all teachers and school officials and look forward to further collaboration during the 2010–11 school year. Please direct any questions that arise in connection with this rescheduling to the Office of State Assessment at emscassessinfo@mail.nysed.gov.

Thank you for your continued cooperation in helping the Department to maintain the integrity of New York State's Testing Program.

Test Specifications

2011 Grade 3-8 English Language Arts and Mathematics Tests

English Language Arts

New test specifications will be designed for the 2011 English Language Arts Grades 3–8 Testing Program. Like the current test designs, these will be aligned with the three learning standards within the reading, writing, and listening modalities. Each grade level test will feature multiple-choice, short-response, and extended-response questions.

Approximate Percentage of Questions Assessing Each Standard

The following chart shows, for each grade, the approximate percentage of questions that will assess each of the three English Language Arts Learning Standards.

1. Reading, Writing, Listening, and Speaking for Information and Understanding	33%	36%	40%	40%	35%	35%

3. Reading, Writing, Listening, and Speaking for Critical Analysis and Evaluation	20%	20%	25%	25%	30%	30%

Note: Writing mechanics is also scored. It is incorporated in each of the standards above.

Question Formats for the English Language Arts Tests

The Grades 3–8 English Language Arts Tests will contain questions with a variety of formats, including multiple-choice, short-response, extended-response, and graphic organizers.

For multiple-choice questions, students will select the correct response from four answer choices.

For short- and extended-response questions, students will write an answer to an open-ended question. The extended responses are scored for writing as well as for reading comprehension.

The editing paragraph and two extended responses will no longer be used to assess writing mechanics. Instead, only multiple choice questions will be used to assess the students' knowledge of grammar, punctuation, spelling, and word usage.

Reading

In the reading section of the English Language Arts Tests, students will read several passages representing a variety of genres. For each passage, students will apply the skills and knowledge gained in the classroom to answer reading comprehension questions that demonstrate their understanding of the passages. Each passage will give the student all of the information that is needed to successfully answer the associated questions without using their background knowledge of the subject.

The reading passages that appear on the tests will be similar to the kinds of materials students read both in the classroom and for homework assignments. Reading passages will be carefully selected for grade-level appropriate vocabulary and content.

Tests at every grade level will contain both literary and informational reading passages. Literary passages may include short stories, folktales, poetry, or other forms of literary writing; informational passages may include articles, excerpts from biographies or autobiographies, essays, or other forms of informational writing.

Genres for the tests will include:

- Folktales
- Reports
- Letters
- Stories
- Informative pieces
- Poems
- Literary pieces
- Interviews
- How-to pieces
- Classical works
- Plays

A minimum of four genres will be used on each test for interest and literary diversity.

Higher order thinking skills will be required on some of the questions that accompany the reading passages. These skills include: summarizing, analyzing, inferring, interpreting, predicting, and evaluating information.

Listening

In the listening section of the English Language Arts Tests, students will listen to a passage and apply the skills and knowledge that they gained in the classroom to answer comprehension questions. The questions will assess student understanding of the passages, listening, and retention of detail.

Listening selections will represent a variety of genres. The listening passages that appear on the tests will be similar to the kinds of materials students read and hear in the classroom. Listening passages will be carefully selected for grade-level appropriate vocabulary and content. Students will not read the questions prior to hearing the listening selection so that they focus on the passage being read rather than on finding answers to the questions. Depending upon grade level, students will be encouraged to take careful notes during the second or both readings of the listening selection to assist them in answering the questions that follow.

Writing

The reading/writing section of the tests will be composed of four short-response questions and one extended-response question. Students will be required to demonstrate knowledge of three types of writing: narrative, persuasive, and informative. Students will write from a variety of prompts and for many different audiences. Student writing will be evaluated on how well it communicates to the reader.

Mathematics

The Grades 3–8 Mathematics Tests will assess the five content strands and five process strands in the New York State 3–8 mathematics core curriculum. Questions will be developed in accordance with increasing problem solving and higher cognitive demands that are associated with the increasing cognitive maturity of the student.

Approximate Percentage of Questions Assessing Each Strand

The questions on the Grades 3–8 Mathematics Tests will assess both the content and the process strands of New York State Mathematics Standard 3. Each question will be aligned to one content performance indicator for reporting purposes, but will also be aligned to one or more process performance indicators, as appropriate for the concepts embodied in the task. As a result of the alignment to both process and content strands, the tests will assess students' conceptual understanding, procedural fluency, and problem-solving abilities, rather than assessing their knowledge of isolated skills and facts.

Strand	Grade 3	Grade 4	Grade 5	Grade 6	Grade 7	Grade 8
1. Number Sense and Operations	52–57%	57–62%	35–39%	36–40%	28–32%	19–23%
2. Algebra	0%	9–13%	0%	18–22%	10–14%	21–25%
3. Geometry	12–17%	0%	33–37%	15–19%	12–16%	34–38%
4. Measurement	28–33%	14–18%	16–20%	9–13%	12–16%	0%
5. Probability and Statistics	0%	11–15%	8–12%	14–18%	28–32%	18–22%

Question Formats for Mathematics Tests

The Mathematics Tests will contain questions in the following formats: multiple choice, short response, and extended response.

For all multiple-choice questions, students select the correct response from four answer choices.
