Dear Colleague,

In keeping with NYSUT's mission to improve the social and professional lives of our members and their families, the union offers NYSUT Social Services.

This program provides expert guidance from experienced, caring professionals to help you and your dependents cope with some of life's unexpected complications.

We encourage you to take advantage of this membership benefit. NYSUT is committed to providing our members — both in-service and retired — with the tools to remain vital, positive and productive members of the institutions where they work, their families and communities, and their union.

In solidarity,

Richard C. Iannuzzi
NYSUT President

What can NYSUT Social Services do for you?

Our staff has a broad scope of knowledge and extensive referral resources.

You can tap into these resources just by giving the office a call. We can provide supportive phone consultation and in many cases, make referrals as needed.

Working with agencies and providers in your community, we can help you:

- Manage hospitalizations, planned or unexpected.
- Find support groups or mental health services to fit your needs.
- Locate specialized services for persons with disabilities.
- Arrange assistance for victims of violence.
- Connect with services for the aging and provide guidance in caregiving.
- Find help for marital and relationship problems or child-rearing concerns.

Our approach

Your life is complicated, busy and full.

Situations arise for all of us and our families that add stress to our lives. We're here to help you manage these situations effectively and relieve some of that stress.

We do the research to find the piece of information or the service in your community that can make the difference to you and your family.

Call with confidence

All of your contacts and resulting services from NYSUT Social Services are completely confidential.

This benefit from the union is always free of charge to members and their families.

So, if you think you might need to use our services, don't hesitate to give us a call.
