COVID-19 Certification Information

Updated September 2021

Application Deadline extended

The deadline to apply for the COVID-19 Emergency certificate is now:

September 1, 2022.

The state education department extended the deadline at the September 2021 Board of Regents meeting.

The Emergency COVID-19 Certificate

The State Education Department originally created this certificate due to the lack of available testing sites for required NYS certification examinations.

Due to the on-going impact of the pandemic, the emergency certificate can still be obtained by applicants who meet the requirements.

What does it do?

A COVID-19 certificate allows individuals to work in New York State public schools or districts for two years despite not having completed all required state exams.

During that time the missing exam(s) must be completed.

The Emergency COVID-19 Certificate

Base requirement:

All the requirements for the certificate you want are complete EXCEPT for required certification exam(s).

The Emergency COVID-19 Certificate

There is a deadline:

Application(s) for the COVID-19 certificate must be submitted via TEACH on or before SEPTEMBER 1, 2022.

Applying for the COVID-19 Certificate:

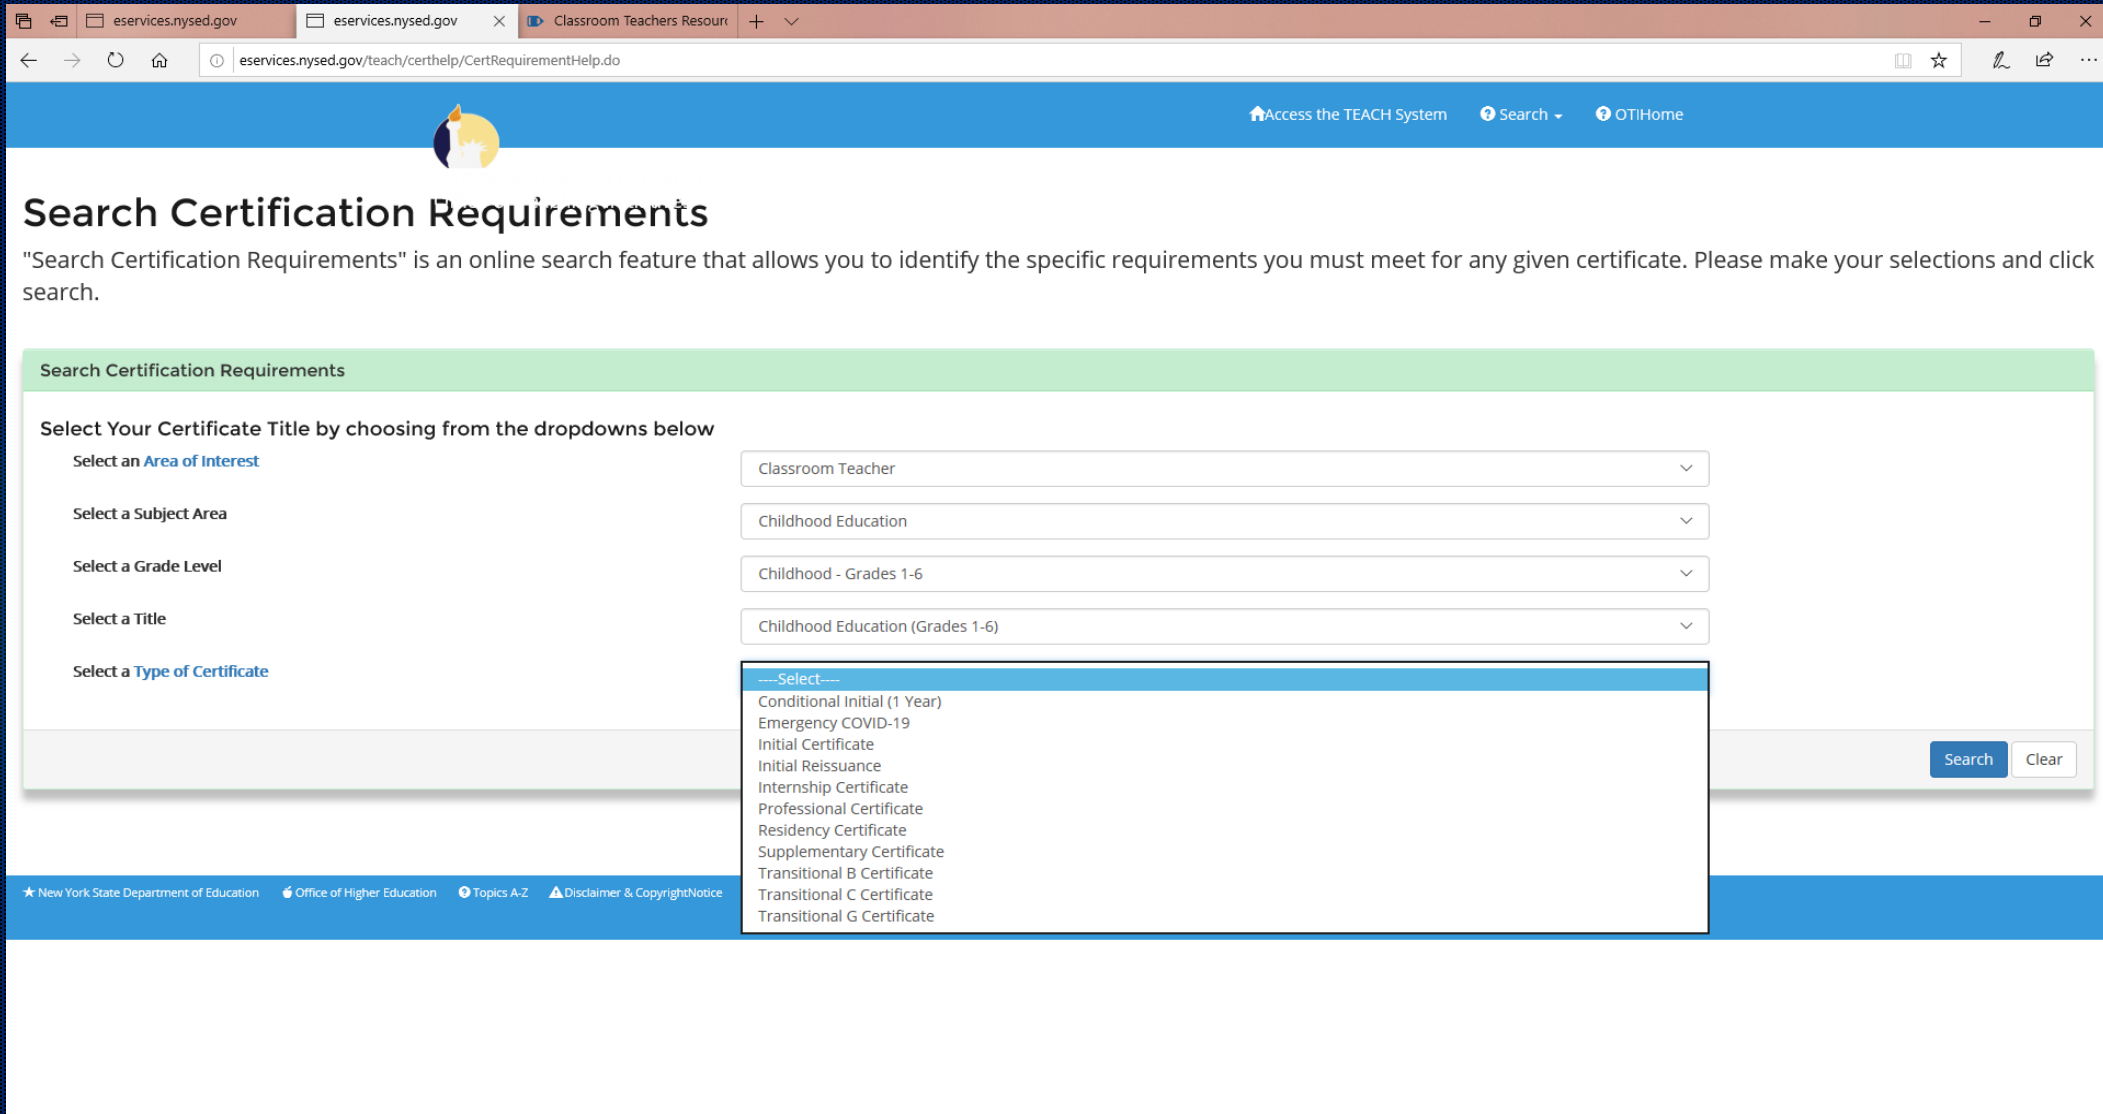

Apply for TWO certificates on TEACH:

(a) The certificate you want

AND

(b) The COVID-19 certificate in that same certificate title.
