NYSUT supporters attend a rally.

Throughout its history, NYSUT has advocated for strong urban schools.

NYSUT President Richard Iannuzzi visits an elementary classroom.

In 1955, Rosa Parks courageously refused to move to the back of a bus — a decision that helped spark the American civil rights movement. She was a tireless advocate for equal opportunity for all people.

NYSUT, a statewide union of professionals, is proud of its history of working with the African-American community to advance the civil rights movement and to promote quality education and health care for all New Yorkers.
